NOVEL SUIT IS INSTITUTED

Colored Tenant Claims Damages From Negro Landlord Who Took Roof from His House.

An interesting suit in which one colored man sues another for damages was instituted in the Superior Court yesterday by Hon. John D. Bellamy, counsel for Edmund [illegible]ith, driver of a baggage wagon for [illegible]s. Orrell & Alexander, the livery[illegible]. The defendant in the suit is Thomas Smith, a well-to-do negro who owns some real estate and other property and who is represented in the defence of the suit by William J. Bellamy, Esq.

The complaint alleges that Highsmith was a tenant of Smith at No. 707 Chesnut street under lease from month to month and had paid his rent to Sept. 10th; that on Aug. 28th, while he was still living in the house and the lease was still subsisting, although the defendant had been forbidden, he tore the roof from the dwelling house and left the furniture of plaintiff and his family exposed to the rain and weather. The complaint further alleges that Smith is a man of means and wilfully, recklessly and wantonly endeavored to bulldoze and scare the plaintiff, a poor man, and in the absence of Highsmith, on one occasion, the defendant broke open one of the back doors of the house and unlocked the front door, thus invading the plaintiff's home and exposing him to the contempt and ridicule of the community; that the plaintiff, by reason of his malicious conduct in this regard, caused him damage, which is asked for in the sum of $2,500 punitive and $500 actual, the actual damage being to a large amount of valuable funiture, consisting of piano, several bed room suits, pictures, etc., belonging to the plaintiff in the house.

The suit is, to say the least of it, novel and involves some interesting questions as between landlord and tenant.

The company may operate steamboats, railways, electric lines, bring in immigrants and do a score of other things. Of the half a million capital stock of the company $10,000 has been paid in. The incorporators are Hugh MacRae & Co., who are by for the largest holders, E. W. VanC. Lucas, in charge of the Engineering Department of Hugh MacRae & Co.; Capt. Walter G. MacRae, Cameron F. MacRae, Esq., Eric Norden and Junius Davis, Esq.

A charter is also granted to-day to the Carolina Land and Improvement Company, of Fair Bluff, Columbus county. The authorized capital stock is $20,000. The incorporators are James Powell, George W. A. Powell, A. G. Floyd, W. E. Meares and Donald MacRackan, of Fair Bluff.

The Governor appoints six local officers of the National Guard as a committee to look after the arrangements for having the Guard here during the President's visit in October. Maj. Joseph J. Bernard, of Raleigh, is chairman of the committee.

Auditor Dixon returned to-day from Columbus county, where he made seven educational speeches. He says four districts will vote local tax for schools.

A private car arrived here to-day to take Governor Glenn to New England. He says he will lay before the New England people the advantages of North Carolina.

SHOOTING AT DELGADO.

Young Man Painfully Wounded Early This Morning at Village.

This morning about 2 o'clock the hospital had a call from a gentleman from Delgado, who came to the city for a physician, to send out to the mill village for a young man named John Hughes, 18 years old, who had been shot in the back of the head and in the back with a charge of bird shot from a gun in the hands of some one unknown. The ambulance went out and returned with the young man to the hospital at 3 o'clock this morning. It is not thought that he is seriously wounded.

The young man who came to the city for medical assistance said that he had just left Hughes and some other boys seated on the steps of the company store at Delgado. He and Hughes boarded together at Cottage No. 88. He had just reached the door when he heard a gun shot and then a pistol shot. Hughes came running home and told his friend to come to Wilmington for a doctor. That was about all that could be learned about the affair.

CITY TAX FIGURES.

The city tax books which have just been placed in the hands of the city Clerk and Treasurer for collection show an actual gain of $391,085 in valuation for the current fiscal year over that of 1904-05. In the valuation of real estate there is a gain of $47,206; in personal property, $90,843, and in solvent credits, $323,940, making a total gain of $461,989. However, there is a decrease in the amount of money on hand given in for taxation by $31,396; in stocks and bonds, $35,268 and in stocks of merchandise, $4,220, making a total decrease of $70,904, which subtracted from the increase, gives the net gain of $391,085 as stated. By reason of the reduction of the poll tax from $3.66 to $2.00 the decrease in the amount of collections from that source this year will be $4,857.84. The tax books show for collection on the valuations and polls above $140,159.71, which is required to run the city government for a year.

SUIT AGAINST POLICE CHIEF

C. J. Cooley and his wife, Madame Ona, who were recently arrested here on suspicion of having been parties wanted in Kalamazoo City, Mich., for grand larceny, and who were not identified by persons who came for that purpose, yesterday retained Hon. John D. Bellamy and Walter P. Gafford, Esq., to bring suit against Chief of Police Williams, and other persons responsible for their arrest, claiming damages for false imprisonment. The circumstances of the case are well remembered.

Chief Williams arrested the parties first for the Kansas City authorities, who were disposed to delay the matter of sending some one to identify them. They were promptly released at the sign of weakening on the part of the Kansas City people. The Kansas City chief, however, telegraphed the Kalamazoo sheriff that Cooley and his wife had been arrested here and the Kalamazoo authorities next day sent another telegram authorizing a State warrant for grand larceny, which was issued on best knowledge and belief by one of the officers and served. Cooley and his wife were not locked up during their detention, but were given the freedom of the hall and a place to sleep in the chief's office at night. Mr. Gafford is authority for the statement that the summons in the suit against Chief Williams will be issued early this week in the Superior Court and that the complaint will be filed in due time.

RAN FROM A POSSE.

Promiscuous Shooting in "Brooklyn" Friday Night Caused Uneasiness.

A volley of pistol shots fired by a posse under Constable Savage and Deputy Sheriff Cox, in search of Arthur Williams, colored, wanted for some offence in the magistrates' courts of the city, gave rise to reports yesterday that there had been further trouble in the neighborhood of Fifth and Harnett streets, and gave residents in the neighborhood considerable uneasiness at the time of the shooting. It seems that the officers were after one negro named Arthur Williams but they came up with another negro of the same name, who took to his heels at the sight of the posse, some of whom fired after him to frighten him. He stopped and a pistol was found on his person, which probably caused the guilty conscience that gave action to his heels.

Some of the bullets fired at the retreating negro lodged in the house of Policeman I. F. Huggins, at Fifth and Swann, and others of them went into the window of an old colored man living in the vicinity. The shooting appears to have been too promiscuous and should not have been tolerated by the officers, who disclaim responsibility for it, saying the shooting was by outside parties.

Williams was given trial in Justice Furlong's court yesterday and was required to give bond for trial in the Superior Court on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

BURGLARS AT DELGADO AGAIN.

Company Store Twice Entered Within Week—Mill Office.

The company store at Delgado and the mill office, separate buildings on oposite sides of the street, at Delgado village, were entered by burglars night before last. Mr. W. H. Pittman, manager of the store, discovered the burglary there when he came down to open up as usual yesterday morning and the office force of the mill discovered that the office had been entered when they came down about the same time. Fortunately nothing was stolen from either place as the burglar was in search of money and the safe in neither of the places could be opened.

The company store was entered earlier in the week and the safe robbed of something over $100 belonging to Mr. J. H. Sykes, but the entrance night before last was by means of removing a pane of glass in front whereas the first entrance was at the rear. The mill office was entered by means of removing a glass panel from the front door. There is no clue to the identity of the night visitors, who have operated quite generally around Delgado for some time.

SHOPS AT FAYETTEVILLE.

Railroad Repair Plant Said to Be In Contemplation There.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer has the following:

"We learn on good authority, but not officially, that the A. C. L. will soon begin the construction of repair shops just below the new freight depot, which is now in course of construction. It is said that a force of forty skilled mechanics will be sent here to begin with. There are no such shops here now, though Mr. J. C. Pope, the very efficient chief inspector at this point, has a force of fifteen or twenty men under him now doing temporary repair work. There are now twelve passenger trains a day running from Fayetteville, with the two 'shoofly' trains, and the Bennettsville train making up here. Then there are innumerable freight trains, some of which make up here. When all of this is considered the necessity of there being repair shops here is apparent."

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons Bereaved.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Simmons sincerely sympathize with them in the death of their infant daughter, Emily Frances, aged one year, two months and 12 days, which occurred at the family home, No. 610 Dock street, at 4:35 o'clock yesterday morning. The funeral will be conducted from the residence, No. 610 Dock street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon and the remains will be laid to rest in beautiful Oakdale cemetery.

GROWERS OF ROBESON

Big Rally at Maxton Yesterday In Interest of the Cotton Movement

NEARLY 3,000 WERE PRESENT

Addresses, Basket Dinner and Pleasant Gathering of Loyal Robesonians —Speeches by Hon. Jno. S. Cunningham and Others.

Special Star Correspondence.

Maxton, N. C., Sept. 9.—The rally of cotton growers here to-day, so admirably planned by Mr. A. J. McKinnon, president of the Robeson County Cotton Growers' Association, was a magnificent success. The day was clear, bright and cool and between 2,500 and 3,000 people from all this section were in town early. The rallying ground was the beautiful Patterson Park, on the old fair grounds, to which the procession, headed by a cornet band, moved from in front of the Maple Shade inn as nearly on schedule time as such events are usually pulled off. Chief Marshal McLaurin handled the crowd well.

President McKinnon, of the Robeson Association, presided over the meeting at the park. It was genuinely regretted that President Harvie Jordan, of the National Association, could not be present as he was unavoidably detained at the greater meeting at Asheville. President E. D. Smith, of the South Carolina Association, was also not present to the disappointment of many who had expected to meet him and hear greetings from the sister State.

Col. E. F. MacRae, who had been chosen to introduce Mr. Jordan, was the first speaker and expressed keen regret that the gentleman whom he was to present could not be present. He continued in enthusiastic endorsement of the Association movement, and was followed by Mr. R. W. Livermore, of Red Springs, a good speaker and an excellent business man. He was listened to with manifestations of the warmest approval.

Col. Jno. S. Cunningham, of Person county, president of the North Carolina Association, was introduced and responded in an excellent address. Growers were advised to hold cotton for 11 cents and every small town was urged to establish bonded warehouses and co-operate fully with the National, State and county organizations. He took an optimistic view of the situation and was listened to intently by the large number of growers and business men in his hearing.

Sheriff George B. McLeod, the "idol of Robeson county," was the next speaker and as ever among his people, his presence was a matter of sincere pleasure. He spoke of his sympathy with the movement, the glory of Robeson and its Scotchmen and the unity of its people. Sheriff McLeod was followed by Senator Hector McLean, of Scotland, who brought encouraging news from the sister county and assurances of hearty co-operation in the movement.

The dinner served on the grounds was ample and sumptuous. The ladies had prepared well and there was a feast indeed for all who came. At one time it was estimated that over 1,000 people were seated at the tables, laden with the plenty of the county.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Dr. Hill, of Maxton, and not an untoward incident marred the pleasure of the day. Maxton and President "Sandy" McKinnon did themselves honors in the really big rally in the interest of a great cause.

Stop An Evil Practice.

The County Commissioners are aggressive and determined in their efforts to stop the breakage of glass bottles and the throwing of other material dangerous to vehicles, especially bicycles and automobiles on the macadamized roads of the county. One or two persons have been seen in the act of violating the law in this respect since the notice was given that such violations must cease and arrests will doubtless follow when the cases have been completed by parties now at work on them.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Saturday Morning, Sept. 9.

CAN A PROTECTION COUNTRY COMPETE.

The United States, adhering to a closed door at home strenuously advocates and insists upon the "open door" in China and the Orient. The Washington government took most unction from the Portsmouth treaty of peace because it clinched the "open door" policy in China and Korea, but the question now is whether a protection country like the United States can go into the Orient and compete with free trade manufacturing countries like England, Japan, etc?

Of course, we might do it by charging high prices at home and selling in foreign markets at less prices than the highly taxed American public has to pay for home manufactures. That has been the policy of the trust manufactories of America but will the American people stand for that in order to let the manufacturers invade the foreign markets? It would really be too much like making American customers pay the difference between what the Orientals pay and the price which will satisfy the manufacturers.

Yesterday the Star quoted from the Bureau of Statistics at Washington to the effect that we produce three-fourths or more of the raw cotton grown in the world, and that we export to Europe two-thirds of the cotton that we produce. The bureau of statistics also go on to show that for the past seven months we exported raw cotton to the value of $170,479,075, and during the same period our exports of cotton cloth amounted in round numbers to $33,000,000, of which China takes about $22,000,000, and the rest goes to American countries and countries in the Orient while no one European country took as much as $1,000,000 of our cotton manufactures. On the other hand we took from European countries about $30,000,000 of manufactures made mostly of raw cotton which we export to Europe. We see therefore that we have very little more than the balance of trade in manufactures, while American mills consume only about one-third of the cotton produced in this country. Secretary Hester's annual report which we published yesterday makes the 1904 crop 13,565,885 bales, and states that the American mills, North and South, consumed only 4,364,000 bales.

The New York Journal of Commerce speaking with reference to the bureau of Statistics in connection with the proposition to send a commission to Europe, the Orient and other countries to extend our trade in cotton manufactures, pours cold water on the proposition. Our esteemed contemporary speaks disparagingly of our small foreign trade in cotton manufactures, which comparatively speaking is only a few million dollars after we subtract the purchases which we make form Europe, and plainly states that there is very little use for any such commission to be sent abroad. The reason assigned is that Europe manufactures two-thirds of the cotton grown by us, turns out its manufactures with unprotected labor, and goes against us with our goods made by the highest paid labor in the world. The deduction of the Journal of Commerce finally is that until we manufacture all our own cotton, or make into cloth and other articles that which we do consume, doing it with labor which is paid no more than European labor, we cannot hope to compete in any market with European manufacturers.

Considering these facts we wonder if it is possible for a protection country to compete with free trade countries. Even if we do raise the cotton, European countries and Japan can buy it from us, confident that under our policy, they can undersell us. However, the commission which President Roosevelt is asked to appoint may find out enough to open our eyes to the reasons why we cannot get the lion's share of the cotton goods trade of the world, even if the day is not coming when we will monopolize the trade in manufactured cottons as we now do in growing the staple in the South.

WATSON ON BOOKER WASHINGTON.

The Baltimore Sun says:

"Tom Watson's Magazine for June contains an editorial review of certain statements of Booker T. Washington in a recent lecture, to the effect that the negro is really superior to some branches of the white race. Statistics were used in the lecture to show that 85 per cent. of the population of Spain are illiterate, whereas but 54 per cent. of the negroes of the United States are illterate. It follows that our negroes are superior to the Spanish. Of the Italians 65 per cent. are illiterate, and of the people of South America 80 per cent. On the strength of these figures, Washington declares that 'the negro race has developed more rapidly in the 30 years of its freedom than the Latin race has in 1,000 years of freedom.' From the fact that a larger proportion of the negroes of the United States can read, the broad inference is drawn that the negro race, whether in Africa, Haiti or the South, is susceptible of a more rapid development than the Latins of Italy, Spain or South America. In short, the negro is superior to the whites of certain countries and is in a position to doubt his inferiority in capacity and achievement to the whites of any country.

"'The race,' says Editor Watson, 'as a race, has enjoyed just as long a period of freedom as the Celts, the Latins, the Anglo-Saxons and the Slavs. The black race was just as free in Africa as the Indian race in America or the Latin race in Italy.' It had the same chance. Yet in the thousands of years in which the white races have painfully created a civilization, what have the Africans in Africa accomplished? There, says Editor Watson, they are still 'running about in the woods naked, eating raw meat, eternally at war, steeped in ignorance, vice and superstition, with occasional lapses into human sacrifice and cannibalism.'

"The negro is imitative, but originates nothing. Without the tuition and coercion of the white race he makes no progress. In this country he made his greatest advance toward civilization under the coercion of slavery, but has appreciably relapsed in the 30 years of his freedom, instead of improving, as Booker Washington supposes. In Haiti the French taught the negroes their language and civilization, but in the 100 years since they gained their freedom they have returned to barbarism. Negroes can copy the white man's institutions under the white man's guidance, but without it they revert to their former savage state. They need to be upheld or they fall. Complicated institutions of modern civilization in which they participate on equal terms constantly tend to deterioration."

TWINKLINGS.

—"What do you think? Stevens has invested in a talking machine?" "You don't say! What kind is it?" "Female."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

—Her—I'd never marry a penniless French or British duke. Him—Good for you. Her—Not if I could get an American oil or coal baron.—Pittsburg Post.

—"That girl she doesn't like is in love with him, too," "Is she going to marry him to spite her?" "No; she's going to let her marry him to spite her."—Houston Post.

—"American slang has some odd peculiarities." "For example?" "Well, the Russians were all driven out of Mukden." "Yes." "And now we say they're 'all in.'"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

—"Haven't you ever thought of going to work?" asked the farmer's wife of Sauntering Sam. "Yes'm," replied the veteran tramp. "I thought of it once, but I was deeleeryus at de time."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

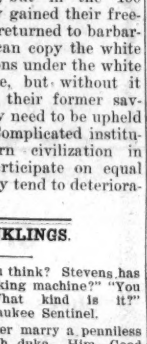
—First Super—Ow are you a-getting on in your profession, William? Second Super—Fine! I've come to the front' I can tell you. In last year's pantomime I played the hind legs of the elephant. This year I am the forelegs.—Half Holiday.

—"Of course," said the shrewd business man, "I don't want to be sick, but it looks as if I'd have to call in Dr. Borroughs for a couple of weeks." "What for?" demanded his friend. "He owes me a hundred dollars, and that's about the only way I can collect it."—Philadelphia Press.

The teamster was not beating his horses, but he was using pretty vigorous language. "This cruelty to animals," declared the woman with three birds on her hat, "is positively dreadful." "Oh, it's perfectly outrageous," agreed the woman in the Persian lamb coat. And she vented her indignation by giving a street urchin, who had jostled her, a crack that sent him whimpering on his way.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

There is to-day a crying need of a reformation in the treatment of the body. The basis of this reformation is to be found in the thesis of Dr. R. V. Pierce: "Diseases which originate in the stomach must be cured through the stomach."

In the forty odd years of Dr. Pierce's experience as chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., he has treated more than half a million people, with a record of ninety-eight cures in every hundred. The theory held by Dr. Pierce that the stomach is the chief breeding place of disease, is abundantly borne out by the success of his treatment which is addressed primarily to the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.



No other medicine acts so powerfully and as perfectly on the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Men and women afflicted with shortness of breath, heart disease, suffocation, dizziness, spots before the eyes, "liver pains," and similar ailments have been promptly and perfectly cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

Miss Lavilla Bonine, Curator Natural History Society, of 408 Lowawee Street, West, Lansing, Mich., writes: "I suffered with chronic dyspepsia for nearly seven years, and this caused me to grow very thin and pale, at the same time my blood became poor and I was so nervous and unstrung that I was unfit to attend to my daily duties. Heart was also affected and fluttered at the least excitement. I spent a lot of money doctoring and found no relief, until I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It certainly is a wonderful medicine. It toned up my stomach and I began to have a splendid appetite; had no trouble with my digestion, and I began to pick up and get strong; soon new, rich blood flowed in my veins, and I once more felt the beauty and joy of life. I have now enjoyed perfect health for a year, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

"I Suffered Untold Misery," Writes Mrs. S. J. Chrisman, of Mannsville, N. Y., "and for four years had to wear a supporter for my womb, which had come down and crowded everything before it. I could hardly walk, and could not ride at all. After taking two bottles of Cardui I gave up my supporter, and since beginning my fifth bottle I can be on my feet half a day at a time and do not have the bad feeling that troubled me formerly. Cardui has done me so much good that I would like to tell it to every suffering woman."

CURRENT COMMENT.

—It is no reflection on the policemen of New Orleans that none of them has caught the yellow fever.—Atlanta Journal.

—After all President Roosevelt went to the botton of the ocean much quicker than he went to the bottom of the beef trust.—Col. Bryan's Commoner.

—Is there any use for Mr. Bryan to visit the Philippines after Mr. Taft has been there? Everything there must be pledged by now.—Charlotte News.

—That light flitting around in the executice office annex to the white executive office annex to the White House is merely Cortelyou trying on a few more Cabinet positions.—Kansas City World.

—It is to be hoped that next winter, when he is wrestling with grave domestic questions, President Roosevelt will have as much influence with the United States Senate as he had with the Emperors of Japan and Russia.—Portland Oregonian.

—This Asheville cotton convention seems to have hold of the fundamental truths, and if they show throughout the practical wisdom that seems now to possess them, with the co-operation of the farmers—they already have the co-operation of the press—cotton will yet be King in the South.—Charlotte Observer.

—The Japanese have complimented Miss Alice Roosevelt by putting into circulation a large number of postcards bearing her picture. The Japanese characters under the picture explain that she is "The American Princess." And doubtless that is the way she is regarded throughout the far East.—Savannah News.

—The current clamor about "tainted money," hysterical and pharisaical as the form it takes shows much of it to be, is a sign of the awekning of the public conscience to a realization that certain business methods which used to be passed over as a matter of course and resented only by those directly injured, are in truth, offenses against good morals and social welfare.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

—The evidence taken at the coroner's inquest upon the death of Thomas Nall, inmate of the State Hospital for the Insane, satisfied the jury that Nall died from the effects of the treatment he received from the four attendants who recaptured and returned him to the hospital in a dying condition. Doubtless the public takes the same view of the matter. As the jury understood the evidence, the four attendants were criminally responsible for the death of Nall. There is every reason to believe that the public draws the same inference from the facts proved. The public is very indignant, and justly so; for it appears that a great outrage has been committed by the abuse of a little authority. If a crime has been committed, as now appears, nothing short of the severest penalty of the law will satisfy outraged public opinion. — Raleigh Post.

THE MORNING STAR

At Reduced Rates

To New Subscribers

For the next sixty days will mail THE MORNING STAR to subscribers outside the city at the following reduced rates:

FOR ONE YEAR $4.00

FOR SIX MONTHS $2.00

Positively, no subscription will be taken at the reduced rates for a period less than six months. For one month the price will be, as heretofore, $1.25 for three months; or, fifty cents for one month.

This offer, as will be noted, is for a limited period only, and is made for the purpose of giving those who appreciate the value of a daily newspaper an opportunity to read the STAR for six months, or more, at a cost of about one and a quarter cents per copy, and then determine whether or not they will continue their subscription at the regular price.

No name will be entered on our books under this offer unless the order is accompanied with the cash.

While this proposition is made primarily to secure new subscribers, old subscribers outside the city may avail themselves of its advantages at the reduced rate provided they pay all arrearages and for not less than six months in advance.

On account of the heavy expense attached to our city circulation department this offer does not apply to city subscribers.

Sample copies mailed free to any address.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

—Mr. E. A. Poe, the Fayetteville brick manufacturer, will add to his plant the manufacture of cement building blocks.

—At Winston on Thursday night, John Holloman, while under the influence of whiskey, was run over and killed by Winston hook and lader truck No. 1.

—At the meeting of the Winston-Salem Aldermen Thursday night a resolution was adopted permitting the sale of tobacco and soft drinks on Sunday.

—The Superior Court at Rockingham adjourned on Thursday. One negro was sent to the penitentiary 10 years for house-breaking. The grand jury returned over 100 bills against people for failure to list taxes. It is said about 400 bills will be sent by the solicitor.

—A petition is being circulated at Concord asking for the pardon of Chalmers and Thomas J. White, who were recently convicted of the killing of Russell Sherrill in Rowan county, and who are now in the penitentiary serving their sentences. A large number of people are signing the petition.

—Lumberton Argus: At Red Springs a movement assumed shape to build a Confederate monument in the county. Mr. M. G. McKenzie had very little trouble in getting several hundred dollars subscribed toward the project. It was stated that it would be located at the place that gave the most money toward its erection.

—The Presbyterian church at Clarkton was the scene of an unusually interesting and beautiful wedding at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Miss Mary Hendon Clark, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Clark of Clarkton, N. C., and Mr. Norman Arnold Barnes, of Sumter, S. C., were the happy contracting parties. Clarkton has never seen a more charming wedding.

—Davidson College opened Friday with an unprecedented attendance, 186 students having formally been enrolled before the office closed in the afternoon. The Freshman class will number considerably over 100, and the total attendance will reach about 275. About fifty men have been quartered in all parts of the village, as the regular dormitories cannot accommodate them.

—Fayetteville correspondence: Capt. Marshall Williams, who was shot at by a lawless negro in Seventy-First township a few days ago, the latter being sent to the county roads for the offence, declares that there is such a state of lawlessness in his neighborhood, from the prevalence of blind tigers and the drinking of bad liquor, that he is afraid to come to town on business and leave his family without protection.

—The Fall term of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts opened at Raleigh on Friday. Dr. Geo. T. Winston, the president said: "This is the largest body of the largest students I have ever seen at a college opening in my 30 years' experience in North Carolina and Texas colleges. The college is filled the first day of the session, but 50 more men will be coming in during the next ten days."

—Revenue officers have been quite active lately and they have captured not only a number of stills, but some moonshiners. A few days ago they made a raid in Granville county and found an illicit distillery on the land of an old man named Hayes, who became so excited on account of this find that he died in three days, of some kind of heart trouble, although he said very positively that it was not his distillery and that he had not previously known anything about it.

—Fayetteville correspondence, Charlotte Observer: When Solicitor C. C. Lyon closed up his business in Superior Court he remarked that he was going to tackle a very heavy docket in Columbus county, and wondered what was the matter with the people that there was such an increase of crime. So it seems that all last Winter's drastic legislation on State and local liquor laws, and anti-saloon leagues, and the raking up of old Sunday blue laws, have failed to bring about the millennium.

—Warrenton Record: The Record stated last week that a movement was one foot to establish another bank in Warrenton. We are at liberty to say that a number of our leading business men met Monday and decided to organize a State bank with a capital of $25,000. As business houses are in such great demand it may be necessary to erect a bank building. The organizing of this bank will mean more money and a larger volume of business for the old town.

—Probably fifty witnesses have been examined and discharged by the jury of the special term of Federal Court in session at Greensboro, but beyond this it has been impossible to obtain a single bit of news as to the deliberations of that body. It was rumored Friday that the grand jury would probably, complete its work and adjourn Saturday afternoon, but this cannot be verified and may be classed as guess work along with every other gossip coming from the United States court house.

—Charlotte Observer: A picture of the old Cornwallis house, where Lord Cornwallis made his headquarters in 1780, has been presented to the Carnegie Library by Mrs. Josephine Davidson Mallard. The drawing was enlarged by Mrs. Mallard from a photograph, and done in crayon. Before the building was torn down, about 20 years ago, it was photographed, but most of the photographs have disappeared; therefore the drawing made by Mrs. Wallard, now hanging in the library, is of historic value to the city.

—Raleigh Times, September 8: In response to an order issued by Coroner T. M. Jordan late yesterday afternoon J. C. King, L. R. High, W. F. Durham and Jack Pelle, the attendants of the State Hospital who captured Thomas H. Nall, the escaped maniac, on August 24th, are in jail awaiting trial for the killing of Nall. The coroner's jury was in session all day yesterday at Strickland's Coffin House, where the body was, and late in the afternoon they rendered their verdict, which was that the decreased came to his death from wounds inflicted by the four attendants. The proceedings of the coroner's court yesterday were secret, and so far nothing has been given out as to any new evidence placed before them.

The Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.

—Raleigh Post: A square test is to be made of the law by which the police justice of this city can send persons to the roads direct or can impose fines, all without a trial by jury. In the case of Bertha Brown, convicted of keeping a disorderly house in the tenderloin district, she was fined $100. In another case a negro was sentenced to the road for 90 days for gambling, and another for six months for assault with deadly weapon. Attorney J. C. L. Harris said to-day that he had, for some time, been waiting for an opportunity to make a test case and so took this matter, as regards these three persons, before Judge Purnell, of the Federal Court. The contention of Mr. Harris is that a warrant on information and belief, such as were those in these cases, is illegal and void, and, second, that it is in violation of the fourteenth amendment of the United State constitution, to deny a trial by jury. He cites in point the case of Jameson vs. Wimbush, this being the case decided by Judge Emory Speer, from Georgia. The Supreme Court held that the Legislature had a right to give a police justice power to try, as a magistrate has it, and to further give jurisdiction of all the petty misdemeanors. The recorder of Charlotte binds over, while the police justice here imposes direct sentences.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Sunday Morning, Sept. 10.

YELLOW FEVER SITUATION.

Only One Death in New Orleans—Case at State Capitol.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New Orleans, September 9.—The follows is the official report of the yellow fever situation at New Orleans up to 6 P. M. to-day:

New cases to-day, 41, total cases to-date, 2,262.

Death to-day, 1; total dates to date, 309.

New foci, 12.

Cases under treatment, 301.

Cases discharged, 1,652.

The chief interest in the yellow fever situation was the report of infection at Baton Rouge and the fact that although only one case had appeared there, numbers of people had taken the northbound train to-day out of fear that the sickness would spread. Since the fever appeared in New Orleans the State capitol has been bottled up, permitting no communication with New Orleans. The Baton Rogue patient is Aaron Block, son of a prominent citizen. Quarantines were immediately put on by surrounding towns.

Though the number of new cases in New Orleans to-day was again disappointing, the death report was favorable. Chairman Janvier announced to-day that the citizens' fund had reached $135,423, and that the lists will be kept open until the fever is declared over. With the $150,000 placed at the disposal of Dr. White by the city, and State, the total fund he has had to dray on exceeds $285,000.

Additional nurses were sent to Tallulah and Kenner to-day. Owing to the calls that have been made by the country, the supply of nurses has run low, but unless there are further unexpected demands, it is probable that the State board will be able to provide the help that is needed.

CANAL LABORERS STARVING.

Eggs Sell at 10 Cents Each—Meat 20 to 40 Cents.

By Wire to The Morning Star

New York, September 9.—It was learned to-day that a condition of practical starvation which has several times recently broken out among Panama canal laborers, was one of the grounds which caused Chairman Shonts, of the Panama canal commission, to accept the J. E. Marcel bid for supplying food to government employees at Panama, which has caused two unsuccessful bidders to protest to President Roosevelt. Chief Engineer John F. Stevens has been sending daily appeals to the canal commissioners headquarters to send his men food. It was stated to-day by authority that the laborers who are doing the hard work have been for some time in the half starving condition, due to the fact that the demand for food has raised the prices of all commodities to abnormal figures in Panama. The dollar a day men, with eggs at 10 cents a price, and had meat from 20 to 40 cents a pound, have gone for two and three days at a time without any food except that got from sucking the wild cane in the swamps. In this emergency, one of the reasons for accepting the Markel bid, it is learned, was the fact that he has an organized force ready to put into Panama at once.

EARTHQUAKE HORROS.

More People Killed Than at First Supposed.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Rome, September 9.—The effect of the earthquake were more disastrous than at first reported. Dispatches from the South give ever increasing lists of dead and injured, the numbers now running into the thousands. Martiano alone shows 200 casualties while at Parghelia the numoer of dead is estimated at 300, and at Lappollo 200.

Many persons are still entombed in the ruins in these and other districts and touching scenes are enacted when bodies are recovered and identified by grief stricken relatives. In some cases whole families have been wiped out.

The greatest agitation continues among the populace. Slight shocks of earthquake are felt occasionally and subterranean rumbling are still heard. Those persons still possessing homes refused to enter them.

The worst is now considered to be over. Those left distitute are beginning to feel the pangs of hunger and there is also much suffering by those insufficiently clad. Succor is pouring in from all quarters, but the destitution is so widespread that it is impossible to supply immediately all the needs of the people.

At New York yesterday a mystery of unusual proportions was developed in the circumstances surrounding the death of Jacob H. Thompson, for the last forty years an editor of the New York Times, by positive evidence that he was murdered on the night of September 7th, by a brutal clubbing in a prominent hotel situated in one of the business residence and business sections of New York city.

A Berlin official bulletin issued yesterday afternoon announces that 19 new cases of cholera and 7 deaths were reported during the 24 hours ending at noon yesterday.

BATTLING NELSON CONQUERS BRITT

FIGHTERS WERE VERY BITTER

Viciously Slugged Each Other and Ten Thousand Spectators Yelled—Scores of Women Present—Receipts, $60,000 to $70,000.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

San Francisco, Sept. 9.—In a fight that had many novel features, Battling Nelson, of Chncago, knocked out James Edward Britt, of San Francisco, at Colma this afternoon. The end came in the eighteenth round and was a fairly won victory. The surroundings, the crowd, the bitterness of the men toward each other, the uncertainty as to whether there would be a fight at all up to within a quarter of an hour before the fight actually began, together with the cleverness and the endurance displayed by the two boxers made the fight one of great interest to followers of fighting.

It was the success of a strong, enduring fighter, against a clever, cool boxer. From the first of the fight until Referee Graney finished the count of ten seconds, Nelson forced the fighting. Though suffering many bruising blows on the face and body and being at times very tired, Nelson never gave ground.

He came back after every attack by Britt, always ready to exchange blows. For the rushing, forcing, persistent tactics of Nelson, Britt could find no effective counter. The Californian tried every blow known to him to stop his tireless opponent. In every way Britt failed although he punished Nelson severely knocking him down once and staggering him several times. Only once in the third round did it appear to those close enough to judge the tide of battle that Britt might win. In this round Britt reached the most vulnerable spot on Nelson's muscled body, the stomach, with two terrific right hand blows that carried punishment. Nelson faltered for a moment and doubled up. Quickly turning his attention to Nelson's face Britt sent a terrific right cross that dropped the Dane to his knees. There was a shout from Britt's friends, but the elation was short. Nelson got up before the timer could reach the count of ten and fought aggressively for a few seconds when the gong sounded a cheerful note to Nelson's supporters. The call of time for the succeeding round found Nelson fresh and ready. Nelson was always the first to begin rounds though not always the first to land a blow. Time after time he would glide along after Britt much after the style of Fitzsimmons, never clever in his feet, but always seeking to shorten the distance between his opponent and himself. Tireless persistence and disregard of physical punishment characterized Nelson's fighting throughout. Britt fought gamely at all times but after his spurt in the third round the California fighter weakened perceptibly to those seated close to the ringside. Britt had used all his strength, all his cleverness and all his blows in the third and he had failed to achieve a knockout.

Britt appeared to realize as he took his corner after the fourth round that he was unable to hurt his opponent. Nelson also seemed to reach this decision at the same time and subsequently took Britt's blows with more confidence and without flinching. Except in spots, the rounds were all pretty much alike. Nelson always forcing, Britt always giving ground; Britt trying to keep Nelson at the end of his snappy left hand and the Dane using every means to get inside the circumference of the Californian's hands. Whenever Nelson broke down the defense or accepted the blows aimed at him, he would hammer away at the body, always coming out of a clinch swinging at the jaw. The agreement for the two men to break at the call of the referee and the referee's interpretations of the rules and their strict enforcement, seemed to be in Nelson's favor. Graney told the men before the fight commenced that they must break at his command and he carried out his intention. The referee was successful according to popular opinion.

In the fifth round Britt held a momentarily advantage staggering with a series of blows and making a desperate effort to win. This was the first round in which both threw aside all knowledge of boxing and slugged viciously, each hoping to end the fight with one blindly delivered lucky blow. Both were bleding at the close of this round but Nelson was the stronger.

It did not seem possible that a fight could be much fiercer than the fifth round but the succeeding period of three minutes brought the vast crowd to its feet and kept it there throughout the round.

The fighters slugged each other ceaselessly. Both were bleeding and weary but always game. In the last minute of the sixth, Nelson suddenly took the lead and getting Britt in a corner beat him about the body and face until he went weaving about the ring vainly trying to protect himself. Britt took a terrific beating about the body unable for the time to block Nelson's blows, but in a flash, Britt took a brace. He set himself in the middle of the ring and met Nelson with two punishing awings to the face. Nelson halted and Britt leaped forward. He slugged and swung in one last pesperate effort but again the gong ended the round, like the previous critical one, at an opportune time for Nelson. In the eighth Nelson had Britt in trouble, staggering the Californian with a left and driving him to the ropes. Britt's seconds were in a frenzy, shouting all sorts of orders. Above all was the voice of "Spider" Kelly, who shouted: "Cover up, Jimmy." Jimmy obeyed and probably saved himself from going down in the second. After the eighth Britt appeared to tire fast. The pace was slower and in Nelson's favor.

In the tenth and the eleventh Nelson continued to wear out Britt. In the twelfth Britt rallied suddenly and battered Nelson for two minutes. Nelson covered his jaw and took most of the blows on the nose, ear, or stomach. Britt wore himself out and finished the round tired. It became evident to Britt's seconds after the twelfth that their man was beaten. They sought to bolster his wavering confidence with cheerful remarks but Britt appeared to realize that he was beaten. In the thirteenth Britt took a beating with gameness. The fourteenth round was the most exciting one of the fight. Nelson, knowing Britt was tiring fast, had before him the determination to end the battle. In five seconds he had Britt staggering about, his guard lowered and all but out. Time and again Nelson planted left hand blows on Britt's face, driving him against the ropes. Over eagerness on Nelson's part prolonged the fight beyond this round. Seeing his brother beaten down Willie Britt shouted "Swing Jimmy, swing." Setting himself to meet Nelson, Britt swung his right hand with all the strength in his body. The blow landed and Nelson was not only stopped but seemed to give ground. Britt pressed the advantage. With his feet set far apart to steady himself once more he met Nelson with full arm swins, finally forcing the Dane to clinch. The gong sounded while they were standing head to head, slashing at each other with both hands. Ten thousands men rose and cheered the boxers. The desperate struggle in the fourteenth round compelled both men to slow up in the next two rounds and no decisive work was done by either though Nelson showed more strength whenever they came to a clinch. The seventeenth was Nelson's by a good margin. The eighteenth proved the end for Britt. A detailed account of the round which lasted about two minutes shows little difference from the preceding rounds. Britt was tired, but game and willing. Nelson forced him about the ring and gave many body blows always boring. He cornered Britt and drove him against the ropes. Britt squirmed out and sent in a terrific left to the stomach that appeared to hurt Nelson. Nelson covered his body and Britt swung for his face. Quick as a flash Nelson sent in a short, sharp left hand blow to Britt's stomach. He gave way and stepped back, crouching to deceive Nelson and give himself time to recover. Nelson saw the damage his blow had inflicted, however, and pressed on. He forced Britt into his own corner and there, in a rally that lasted only a few moments, the end came. Britt went down suddenly. Nelson says it was from a blow on the jaw. Britt had no clear idea after the fight what put him out but in the opinion of those who were close by it was the blow in the stomach that took all his remaining strength and he fell from exhaustion.

When Britt fell in his own corner, flat on his face, there was a momentary hush and the voice of that of the timer was heard distinctly counting off the seconds. Britt turned on his back and lay gasping, his bloody tongue protruding from his mouth. Five seconds had scarcely been counted when there was a roar from the crowd which saw that the little San Francisco boy could not rise.

"Nine, ten," shouted the timer. Graney pointed to Nelson and the roar from the crowd increased.

Contrary to expectations, the crowd of 9,000 men and a score of women at the ring side was orderly. The stubborn action of Nelson's manager, which left the public in doubt up to the last minute, probably is responsible for the crowd's falling below expectations and made the total receipts about $60,000 instead of $70,000.

Referee Graney caused much surprise after he had been chosen to act by declaring all betsoff. Subsequently about 2:25 o'clock he told newspaper men that bets made after his acceptance as referee would stand.

JAPANESE MALCONTENTS.

Government Tells People About the Peace Terms.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Tokio, September 8.—5:30 P. M.—(Delayed in transmission.)—At an informal meeting which took place today between the Premier, Count Katsura, and members of both houses representing their respective parties of both houses representing their respective parties and associations, Count Katsura made a full statement concerning the peace negotiations. It now transpires that Cape Soya on La-Perouse Straits could not be fortified is unfounded, the only stipulation made with Russia being in regard to the free passage of the straits.

Japan acquires a suzerainty over Korea and will control entirely with a free hand the affairs of the Peninsula railroad South of Changchun, not Changtu, the former being ceded to Japan, with the right to retain military guards for the protection of the railroad.

When the fact that no stipulation exists against the fortification of Cape Soya and that Japan is to have a free hand in the government of Korea becomes known, it is expected that the popular indignation will be considerably allayed.

Tokio, September 9.—10 A. M.—The night was uneventful, and this morning Tokio is orderly and quiet, the belief is growing here that the disorders have ended.

RESISTING QUARANTINE.

Atlanta Mayor Defies State Board of Health With Police.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Atlanta, Sept. 9.—The first conflict between State and city health authorities occurred at an early hour today on an Atlanta and West Point railroad train. Dr. H. F. Harris, Secretary of the State Board of Health, boarded the train at Red Oak and undertook to prevent the entrance into the city of several refugees from Pensacola and infected points in Louisiana and Mississippi. When the train reached Atlanta, Dr. Harris was not visible but Mayor Woodward with a squad of city police was in evidence. When he learned that refugees who had been examined previously by the city's inspector sought to stop here he welcomed them and figuratively handed them the keys of the city. A special car attached to the train carrying refugees bound for Asheville was not molested as the State board does not bar passage through the city or State of this class of passengers. The result of this clash of authority is not yet apparent. The State officials say that any interference with their quarantine will meet with prompt punishment.

It was announced last night from Asheville that the public address of the Southern Cotton Association will not be issued for a week or ten days. The framing of the address is in the hands of a committee composed of J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, N. C., E. D. Smith, of South Carolina, Mr. Moody, of Alabama, and Mr. McMarten, of Mississippi. The actual writing of the document will be done by Mr. McMarten.

POWDER MILLS BLOWN TO ATOMS

Whole Ten Acre Plant of Rand Company Exploded With Volcanic Force

NINETEEN MEN WERE KILLED

Buildings Wrecked In Adjacent Towns—Railroad Tracks Torn Up and Trains Make Narrow Escapes.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Connellsville, Pa., Sept. 9.—The Rand Powder Mills at Fair Chance, six miles south of Uniontown, were entirely wiped out by an explosion at 9:05 o'clock to-day. Of the 32 men who went to work in the mill this morning 19 are known to be dead. Of these 13 have been identified. Nine men including C. M. Rand, manager of the plant, were seriously injured.

Scores of people in the town of Fair Chance, within half mile of the powder mills, were more or less painfully injured. The shock of the explosion was distinctly felt in Connellsville, 20 miles away; buildings being rocked on their foundations. At Uniontown 300 panes of glass were broken. In the town of Fair Chance there is scarcely a house that did not suffer damage. The sides were battered as though axes had been used. Hay stacks were troppled over in the fields and live stock were stunned. The rails of the Baltimore and Ohio railway and the West Pennsylvania Traction railways company were rotated from their roadbed and traffic was delayed from four to six hours, transfers being made over the Pennsylvania. Train No. 52 on the Baltimore and Ohio had a narrow escape from annihilation. It had just passed the Rand mills when the explosion occurred. The windows in the passenger coaches were shattered and passengers thrown into a panic. Had the train been a few seconds late it would have been blown up, as the mills were in a few rods of the tracks. A street car on the West Pennsylvania railroad had also passed just a fed seconds before the explosion and was far enough away to escape damage, though it was derailed.

There were seven explosions in all. Every one of the ten buildings were totally demolished. Not a vestige of them remains tonight. The debris that was strewn over the ten acres of ground where the plant was located took fire soon after the explosion and added its terrors to the disaster. The dismembered parts of the dead were burned in many instances. Identification of many was made by parts of clothing alone. The first three explosions were not as serious as the last four. Then the packing house, pressing room and magazine blew up, follow ed by two cars of dynamite standing on a nearby railroad siding which were set off by the concustion from the powder mill explosions. Two other cars remained intact and it was with difficulty that they were moved to a place of safety after the explosion.

When the bodies were recovered the work of identification was very difficult. Small pieces of bodies were picked up all over the place, but they were so mangled it was difficult to collect enough fragments of any one body to make identification possible. Almost a half mile mountainward from the plan an office oversleve, wet with blood, was picked up.

The hole where the magazine exploded is about fifteen feet deep and 50 yards square. The earth, black and soggy, is thrown up in huge chunks, some of them weighing a hundred pounds. Under the high banks of earth thrown up at this place workmen are working with picks trying to get trace of more bodies.

Manager C. Mortimer Rand was taken to his home at Uniontown on a street car about noon. He suffered greatly from shock aside from the painful injuries he received. Mr. Rand could not be seen and no statement from the company could be secured on the accident or the cause of it.

This is the third explosion at the Rand plant within the past two years. Three men were killed in the first explosion. Two were hurt in the second, which was only slight. A few months ago the citizens of Fair Chance had an injunction served on the Rand Power firm asking the court that the firm be compelled to move their works from that vicinity. They claimed that the town of Fair Chance and the safety of its citizens were jeopardized by the location of the plant so close to the town. This injunction is still pending in the Superior Court.

About three-quarters of the property there was burned to the ground and plundering and incendiarism continue. Hundreds of tanks were destroyed, the pump machinery is useless, and the houses of the workmen were destroyed. One of the oil men estimated th number of dead at over 1,000, five hundred of whom were killed in the city during the early rioting; but he admitted that the estimate was only a guess.

EVENTS AT LAURINBURG.

Reception in Honor of Bride and Groom—Barbecue.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Laurinburg, September 9.—An elegant and elaborate reception was given here last evening at the splendid residence of Mr. James P. McRae in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Covington, who were married at the home of the bride in Salem, Va., on Wednesday last. The superb verandas were brilliantly lighted with numerous incandescent lights, while within was a scene not to be described. The guests were ushered into the brilliant parlor on the left and presented to the bride and groom, passing into the dining hall where daintiest refreshments were served, thence through the arched corridor into the south parlor where punch was dispensed by fairest hands. The hundred guests lingered upon porches and verandas, and in corridor and parlors, chatting merrily and listening ever and anon to melodies that floated out sweet strain from an orchesral grand piano.

Mr Covington is a brother of Mrs. McRae, the hostess, and has been in the banking business in Charlotte, but next week goes to Wilmington to take up the duties of teller of the new bank. He is a native of this town, where he has hosts of friends who rejoice with him in the good fortune of the present in winning so charming a bride and who look upon his future career with assurance that he will deserve and win continued success in business circles.

Judge Walter H. Neal gave an elegant barbecue here to-day being given to the melon growers of the county, and to the members of the bar in the county. An expert presided over the barbecueing pit, and a delightful host made welcome. It will not soon be forgotten by any of those who were so fortunate as to be present.

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS.

Do Not Endanger Life When a Wilmington Citizen Shows You the Cure.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor; why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them?

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney disease cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Wilmington testimony:

B. R. King, the well-known policeman, residing at 706 Wooster street, says: "I had terrible pain in my back which worked around to my side and in my stomach, so bad at times that it laid me up. I used internal medicines and they did not help me; I put on plasters and rubbed with liniment, and none of them helped me at all. Seeing Roan's Kidney Pills recommended I got a box of them at Bellamy's drug store. The next day after commencing to use them I noticed relief. Since using two boxes of them I have not had an ache or a pain in my back. It is with pleasure that I add my name to those endorsing the claims made for this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." R. R. Bellamy, druggist, sells and guarantees them, at 50c a bottle. **
